1. Key points

- Student and coach register must be submitted no later than 31 May 2023.
- Students must submit their online application form (with resume and Q Fever documentation) by 7 June, 2023.

Please note the participation rules below:

- A total of 15 students per University will be permitted to attend the ICMJ workshop regardless of accommodation requirements.
- Where the maximum capacity of program participants (students) is not met following nominations received on 31 May 2023, additional spaces will be made available to universities, which have more than 15 students evenly until the capacity is met. This decision will be at the Committee's discretion.
- If total student numbers at the time of nomination are greater than 130, universities with larger team nominations may be requested to reduce their student nominations to ensure total student participants does not exceed 130.

Team managers:

- Defined as any team accompaniment such as coaches, bus drivers, organisers.
- 2 residential Team managers for each university are permitted. Additional team managers can register if they are organizing their own accommodation or on a case-by-case basis for each university. This decision will be at the Committee's discretion.
- The committee will allow 1 coach to every 5 students with a maximum of 15 students – so max 3 coaches/team managers.

International Student Rule:

- International teams are to consist of no more than 5 competitors and 2 managers, with the option of increasing student numbers closer to the competition.
- At the discretion of the ICMJ committee, International team managers that are also a listed conference program presenter are exempt from inclusion as a team manager
- All students competing at the Australian ICMJ competition are only allowed to have competed in carcass/meat judging competitions in that calendar year.

- In 2023 we will be using our online application process where membership forms are filled out online and resumes + Q-Fever documentation are uploaded via the website <http://icmj.com.au/collegiate-resources/>
- Please don't fill out your online application until you have your resume and Q-Fever documents ready to upload.
- If you have any issues with this process, please email Maria Thompson at meatjudging@gmail.com
- Membership forms, resumes and Q-fever documentation will be accepted up until 7 June, 2023. Completion of an online membership form, and upload of your CV is required by this date to be eligible to be a contest finalist (see attached CV tips).
- Coaches are also required to submit a membership form and Q-fever documentation where applicable.
- Universities and colleges will be invoiced for student fees based on the student and coaches register submitted by 31 May 2023. No cash will be accepted at the workshop.

NO WITHDRAWALS WILL BE ACCEPTED AFTER 20TH June.

- No refunds will be given for withdrawals after 20 June 2023. Withdrawals after 20 June will be invoiced for the full cost of a delegate to attend the ICMJ conference which is $750.
- Invoices will be issued by 2 June, 2023.
- All students are expected to have read the behavior code of conduct prior to the workshop. Behavior considered unacceptable by the ICMJ committee may result in instant dismissal from the program.
- It is imperative for coaches and students to be aware of their requirements prior to and during the workshop and contest to ensure the smooth operations of the ICMJ competition.

Please read the following information carefully and use the provided checklist to ensure your University/college has met all pre-contest requirements.

2. The coaches pack

A number of tools and resources are available to coaches to aid in providing students with pre-workshop information or training.

- ICMJ training manual in PDF format for printing purposes
- ICMJ Operations Manual (this will be released shortly)
- Pre-contest information
- Sample answer sheets

The workshop will be conducted with the assumption that all students have used the online training program or participated in training prior to arriving at the workshop.

3. Student registration

Registration of students will close on 31 May 2023. By this date, details of students and coaches attending from your University or college must be provided to ICMJ using the 'Student and coach's register'. The register is an Excel spreadsheet. All fields of the spreadsheet should be completed.

4. Student and Team Manager inclusions

The table below details the inclusions for each participant option.

	Option 1 Full student participant	Option 2 Student (own accomm)	Option 3 Team Manager	Option 4 Team Manager (own accomm)
	$480 (inc GST)	$330 (inc GST)	$430 (inc GST)	$300 (inc GST)

5 nights' accommodation at Big 4 Wagga in shared ensuite cabins (Tues-Sat)	X		X
Tuesday evening dinner	X	X	X	X
Lunch and dinner (Wed/Thurs/Fri/Sat)	X	X	X	X
Morning tea (Wed/Thurs/Fri/Sat)	X	X	X	X
ICMJ Awards dinner (Saturday at RSL)	X	X	X	X
ICMJ membership fee	X	X	X	X

NOTE – The value of the conference is very heavily subsidised by the valued sponsors of ICMJ. Without this generous support and sponsorship, the conference would cost a 'full student participant' (option 1) up to $1350 each.

4.1 Accommodation

- Accommodation for coaches and students has been organised at the Big 4, Ingenia Holidays Wagga Wagga.
- Where possible, ICMJ will endeavour to provide each uni the same cabins to allow you to study together.
- Each cabin has different bedding configuration. We will ensure that each person is able to sleep singularly.
- All linen and a towel will be provided. Students will require their own toiletries.
- If you are arriving at the Big 4 after 5.30pm, you will need to contact the Big 4 to arrange an out of office hours check in.
- Please see attached the park map and rules. Please ensure that your teams follow the park rules and keep noise to minimum.
- In 2022 we received feedback that some cabins only had a single power point for charging devices. It may be worth letting your students know and packing a power board.
- Note - If you would like to find alternate accommodation in Wagga Wagga for your team, you are welcome to do so.

4.2 Meal arrangements

- In 2023 all students and coaches will be responsible for organising their own breakfasts throughout the week.
- Dinners from Tuesday-Friday will be held at the Wagga Wagga RSL. All other meals will be advised in the program.
- At no time, will alcoholic beverages be permitted into the CSU facilities or consumed in public areas of CSU.
- If you require early check in to the accommodation, please make a note of this on the Excel spreadsheet. This will be charged at the cost price for the cabins of $70 per person per night and will be added to your invoice.

4.3 Payment of fees

- Fees will be collected through direct bank transfer into the ICMJ account and must be paid in Australian dollars. Universities and colleges will be invoiced by 2 June 2023 based on the number of students and coaches submitted on the register. Plus the need for early accommodation check in.

- These fees will be calculated as per the student and coach register submitted by 31 May 2023.
- No refunds will be given for withdrawals after 20 June 2023.
- Student fees must be paid prior to 1 July 2023. Unpaid fees will result in students being ineligible to attend the workshop or compete in the competition.

5. Student Membership

Each student wishing to compete in the ICMJ contest must become a member of the Australian Intercollegiate Meat Judging Association. Team managers are also required to be members of the Association. The participant fees include the membership fee. This involves:

- Membership forms are on online questionnaire and available in the Student and Coaches section of the ICMJ website <http://icmj.com.au/collegiate-resources/>
- Please don't fill out your online application until you have your resume and Q Fever documents ready to upload.
- All forms must be received no later than 7 June 2023 via the ICMJ website. (Note – if you have any issues uploading the documents via the website please send via an email meatjudging@gmail.com).
- The membership fee is included in the student and coach package cost.

6. Resumes

- All students wishing to compete in the ICMJ competition and to be eligible for selection for the TOP 10 and Australian team must submit a current resume.
- Resumes will only be accepted electronically prior to the contest and no later than 7 June 2023.
- The following criteria are recommended:
 - Limit to 3 pages
 - Please list all work experience
 - All resumes must be accompanied by at least one relevant referee

7. Q Fever

- Due to the severity of the Q-Fever disease, Teys Australia have a policy that all visitors to the plant must be either vaccinated against Q-Fever or wear a P2 mask.
- Prior to the workshop and no later than 7 June 2023, students must submit evidence of their Q-Fever vaccination via the ICMJ website.
- Those students that do not submit evidence by 7 June, 2023 will be required to wear a P2 face mask for the duration of the Competition. This is a very strict condition that we must adhere to.
- Any person found to remove their mask whilst inside the plant will be escorted from the premises and the competition will end.
- P2 face masks will be provided by the ICMJ Association on the day.

8. Contest instructions

You are not required to provide teams before the competition. The team from each institution will consist of the 4 highest scoring individuals from that institution over all the classes.

Please ensure that students are familiar with the instructions in the Operations Handbook (downloadable from website). The students must understand these instructions before going on-site at Teys Australia processing plant. Should there be any queries, please contact ICMJ before the competition.

Our performance at the abattoir will influence whether future competitions will be held at Teys Australia, so we need a collective effort from everyone to ensure the days success.

9. Equipment required for the competition

Each student will require for the competition:

- Pacer (mechanical pencil)- for the abattoir, a pacer must be used due to regulations associated with using wood inside abattoirs. Pencils will NOT be accepted.
- Eraser
- Clipboard – will be provided by ICMJ
- White coat
- Hard hat suitable for high risk environments (NOT light plastic bump cap) – please contact ICMJ if clarification is required
- Gum boots – boots must be clean free of dirt. Teys Australia have the right to refuse entry to the plant if boots are not of an acceptable standard.
- Blank paper for note-taking during the contest will be provided by ICMJ.
- If you need to purchase any of the above equipment, you can contact:
Hepworths Industrial Wear www.hepworths.com.au (02) 9829 5800

10. Workshop requirements

- The conference presentations will commence at 8:00am on Wednesday 5 July, 2023 in the Convention Centre.
- Industry representatives will be presenting at these workshops. Students are encouraged to be dressed neatly at all times to best represent themselves and their University. University/college attire (i.e meat judging jumper etc) is suitable to wear.
- The daily temperature in Wagga in July ranges from 4°C - 13°C. Therefore students and coaches are encouraged to bring plenty of warm clothing.
- Students are encouraged to bring a notepad and pen to the conference and workshop each day.

11. Awards dinner

The Awards dinner will be held on the evening of Saturday 8 July, 2023 at the RSL in Wagga. The winners of competition classes will be announced and presented with their prizes on this night.

Sponsors and key members of the meat industry will attend this function. Contestants are expected to attend dressed in smart and professional attire – (ie. coat and tie attire is expected). Contestants are to behave in a manner that will bring credit to their colleges and the competition.

There will be alcohol and other drinks available for purchase at the function. It is not permitted to bring any alcoholic beverages, externally sourced, into the function.

12. COVID – 19

ICMJ will continue to monitor and abide by COVID 19 restrictions. We ask that you each cooperate.

We ask that participants please do not attend the event if they:

- are feeling unwell (including cough, cold or flu like symptoms)
- are suspected or confirmed as having COVID-19

13. Transport around Wagga

The conference is spread across Wagga with accommodation at the Big 4, the Conference and workshops at CSU and the dinners the RSL. We would recommend that teams organise appropriate travel arrangements on arrival at Wagga such as a hire car/van to transport you throughout the week.

14. Maps of Wagga Wagga and CSU

For anyone who is unfamiliar with Wagga Wagga, please visit the following website for directions:

15. ICMJ Behaviour Code of Conduct

1. Coaches are to ensure all students are aware of the Behaviour Code of Conduct and that they represent their college/university in a responsible manner
2. Students are reminded that their behaviour throughout the ICMJ workshop can influence their selection for the final group of students to attend the Australian Meat Grading Training Week in Brisbane and ultimately the team to represent Australia internationally
3. All functions are compulsory for all students. Failure to attend any of the functions will deem the student/s ineligible for selection for the final group of students to attend the Australian Meat Industry Training Week in Brisbane and ultimately the team to represent Australia internationally.
4. There is to be no socialising in the outdoors areas within the accommodation grounds after 9pm.
5. If students wish to stay up past 9pm, they are to do so in their respective cabin within their own accommodation.
6. Students are to be considerate of others when returning to their rooms/cabins at night
7. Excessive consumption of alcohol or use of illegal substances will not be tolerated
8. Consumption of alcohol, not purchased from the RSL, is not permitted at dinner functions.
9. Any damage to the rooms or accommodation facilities or external venues will be repaired at a cost to the student responsible.

In the event of a breach of the Behaviour Code of Conduct, the student/s and their team manager will be asked to explain their behaviour to an ICMJ committee member. The outcome could result in disqualification from the ICMJ Contest and is at the discretion of two members of the Executive – President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Competition Manager.
